Malles Gives Pound Boxes to All
Comers Till Police Take Him to Bellevue.

Constantine Malles, fifty-three years old, of No. 244 East 24th Street, opened a confectionery store at No. 636 Second Avenue yesterday afternoon and invited passing children in to take a pound box of candy as a gift.

Besides giving pound boxes of candy to children for the asking, he had a loaded revolver on view in the window, which he proudly explained to Sergt. McGuire of the East 25th Street Station was so constructed that it would go off automatically and kill any burglar who attempted to steal the contents of the cash register.

When Malles supplied the children with candy, every boy and girl from blocks around made a hurried trip to the store. They were lined up in no formation for a block when Sergt. McGuire appeared, closed the door, disarmed the children and took Malles to the hospital, where he was put in the psychopathic ward.

650 OFF FOR FRESH AIR.

Tenement Mothers and Children
Start on Summer Outings.

Tenement dwellers—mothers and their children—to the number of 650, set out to-day for three summer homes and camps maintained by the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor. It is expected this season will be the most active the association has had in all its seventy-seven years of existence.

Four hundred mothers and babies made the trip by bus to Sea Breeze, the Coney Island beach and home; 200 boys, ranging from eight to fifteen years, went for two weeks at Boys' Camp, Southold, N. Y., in Interstate Park, and fifty little girls left for a three weeks' outing at Grey House Farm, Naugletts, N. Y.

MISS STERN EXONERATED.

The June Grand Jury, which investigated a charge that Miss Gertrude Stern of No. 174 Livingston Street stole $1,000 diamond ring from Mrs. Bertha Helman of No. 28 Clinton Street, has dismissed the complaint. The jury found that there was no evidence to warrant an indictment.

Miss Stern was held for the Grand Jury in the Essex Market Court on June 18 after Mrs. Helman had made the complaint. Up to that time the two had been friends, and it was while Miss Stern was helping Mrs. Helman care for a new born child that the ring disappeared.

Giuseppe Zambelli Accused of Shooting Hollbacks in Hotel
Jan. 20, 1919.

NEW HAVEN, July 1.—Local police last night arrested Giuseppe Zambelli, alias Joe Zante, alias Vitale, wanted for the murder of Joseph and Helen Hollback, who were shot at their hotel in South Orange Park, New York City, on Jan. 20, 1919.

Zambelli was arrested at his home in Oak Street here and admits that he is the man described in a circular sent out by the New York police a year ago, but denies that he committed the murder. He has been employed for some time at the office of the National Folding Box and Paper Company. The New York police have been notified.

Hogues Is Appointed New Agricultural Commissioner.

ALBANY, July 1.—George B. Hogues of Arcade, N. Y., was appointed Commissioner of Agriculture by the State Council of Regents and Senate yesterday. He succeeded Charles S. Wilson. Mr. Hogues was head of the Bureau of Dairy Products in the Agricultural Department.
